

List of Hispanic Artists to research:

Frida Kahlo (1907-1954)

- Renowned for her surrealist self-portraits and paintings that depict the pain and passion of her life. Her Mexican heritage influenced her vibrant and symbolic artwork.

Diego Rivera (1886-1957)

- A prominent Mexican painter and muralist known for his large-scale public murals that often depicted social and political themes. Rivera played a significant role in the Mexican muralism movement.

Carmen Lomas Garza (b. 1948)

- A Chicana artist who explores the rich cultural traditions of Mexican Americans through her vibrant paintings, papel picado, and other artwork.

Jean-Michel Basquiat (1960-1988)

- A Haitian and Puerto Rican American artist known for his neo-expressionist and graffiti-inspired paintings. He became a prominent figure in the New York City art scene during the 1980s.

Ana Mendieta (1948-1985)

- A Cuban-American artist best known for her "earth-body" artwork, where she used her own body as a canvas to connect with nature and explore themes of identity.

Carmen Herrera (b. 1915)

- A Cuban American abstract artist who gained recognition late in life for her minimalist and geometric paintings. She is known for her use of bold and vibrant colors.

Xavier Cortada (b. 1964)

- A Cuban-American artist who focuses on environmental and ecological themes in his work, often addressing issues related to climate change and the environment.

Teresita Fernández (b. 1968)

- A contemporary Cuban-American artist known for her large-scale public art installations and sculptures that explore themes of landscape, perception, and identity.

Rafael Lozano-Hemmer (b. 1967)

- A Mexican-Canadian artist who creates interactive and kinetic art installations, often utilizing technology and digital elements to engage the audience.

Yolanda López (b. 1942)

- A Chicana artist is known for her feminist and political artwork, including the iconic "Portrait of the Artist as the Virgin of Guadalupe," which challenges cultural stereotypes.